

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

Dedicated Expert Advisor

Add a Unity engineer to your development team

A Unity Expert Advisor enables you to succeed faster by giving your team a Unity expert who also becomes an expert on your project. This service guarantees that you will have a specific engineer or technical artist for the duration of your engagement to help you allocate and plan with confidence.

Your Unity Expert Advisor adds technical leadership to your development team. This specialist works alongside your team in a co-development capacity to provide technical architecture and guidance in best practices, as well as helping you to resolve difficult development challenges.

Benefits

Discover and resolve issues more quickly with help from Unity engineers who are familiar with common pain points and solutions

Expand your team's expertise and problem-solving skills with training and knowledge-sharing from your Unity Expert Advisor

Identify and avoid potential issues earlier in the development process

Integrate new Unity features more quickly to benefit from the latest technology

"Unity's Professional Services engineer not only had the skills and knowledge we needed, but he was also an expert communicator, making the entire process a huge success."

– Barry Besecker, CTO and Cofounder, Marxent
