

The flexible workplace is here

Working from anywhere is the new normal. For decades, top employers have been offering remote work as a benefit or a cultural pillar. Now, a flexible workplace is an expectation. We're not going back.

A flexible workplace is a more efficient workplace

Diversified Talent

The person for the job could be anywhere. A flexible workplace opens your org up to global talent. 73% of Parsec for Teams owners have already diversified their hiring pool by expanding beyond their locale.

Reduced Footprint

A flexible workforce needs less space — and that means massive reductions in operating and real estate cost. More than 50% of Parsec owners are reducing real estate and creating flex office space.

Hardware on Demand

Flexible office infrastructure means a reduction in hardware, and opens up the ability to share the hardware you need. 80% of Parsec owners are already investing in headless infrastructure, pooled hardware, and virtual machines.
